I am writing to you about the product "Eternity." As a person with severe multiple chemical sensitivity who is disabled by scented products & chemicals, it concerns me that the safety of this product has not been tested. I've been left with the impression that it contains at least 41 chemicals. Two listed as respiratory sensitizers, five as central nervous system triggers and two suspected as carcinogens. please consider removal of this product from the market until its safety is determined.
